WHY WORK WITH ME

I have been on several press trips, reviewed products, and worked with PR agencies, tourism boards and other travel and tour companies. These organizations have worked with me because I provide quality content in a professional and accurate manner while bringing my own personality to my work.

By being myself and interacting with readers, I have built a trusting relationship with my audience. My readers trust me to be honest with them. I often get emails from readers asking for advice on their upcoming trips, such as where they should go or help with logistics. My audience has confidence in my knowledge and expertise.

I've been blogging since late 2009. I've traveled to over 50 countries and made it to all 7 continents before my 30th birthday. I travel solo, with my husband or friends, on tours, and independently.

As a virtual assistant for three leading travel blogs, I format and edit guest posts, improve SEO, make Pinterest images, and more. I save my clients valuable time so they can focus on what they do best.
